Education

MSc in Digital Design and Communication

IT University of Copenhagen

September 2016 → December 2018

Through my masters, I have studied design of digital experiences in a user-driven perspective, focusing on methodologies such as design thinking. I wrote my thesis on digital debate design.

BSc in Digital Design and Communication

IT University of Copenhagen

September 2013 → June 2016

My bachelors has given me a broad understanding of digital design processes, from initial studies of the design domain, sketching, prototyping, testing and implementation.
